

ALBERT ROSS

The recent heavy rain has played havoc with the number of players participating in last weeks golfing events. Everyone is hoping that the bad weather is over and the course will return to normal.

Twenty players turned out to play on Saturday with the winner being John Callan with 39pts, Ben Finnucane ran second on a countback from Mark Hughes with both scoring 37pts.

The generous Pro Shop gave all players a ball for turning up and playing.

The Thursday competition had again a small field with new member Adin Ramos winning with 33pts on a countback from Len Moloney. The nearest pin winner on the 13th was Peter Oliver and the ball competition went to 10pts because of some players not finishing.

The Sunday event was won by Josh Wilkinson with 40pts with the ball competition going to 33pts on a countback.

Albert Ross Maitland Golf.